

Campfire

Create a fire in certain spots you can rest/cook at.

These have many uses the main one is to allow you to have longer levels without wearing down the party. You may want to put them before things like boss fights or a peculiarly difficult area. In this you will have an event which can serve as a rest stop at the cost of wood. At minimum it should let you rest and cook. You can add more functionality if you have time such as additional recipes or making resting pass time (if implemented).
